Richard Pampuri, O.H. (1897-1930)

"He invites the youth of today, to live joyfully and courageously in the Christian faith; to always listen to the Word of God, generously follow the teachings of the Christ's message and give themselves to the service of others.

He appeals to his colleagues, the doctors, (and healthcare professionals) to responsibly carry out their delicate art of healing; vivifying it with Christian, human, and professional ideals, because theirs is a real promotion of human life. "
